

Invitation

To the European IDEXX Pathology Days 2018

You are a resident of clinical or anatomic veterinary pathology.

You would like to visit one of the biggest laboratories worldwide for veterinary diagnostics?
You would like to gain insight in the challenging day to day work and the operation methods of our experienced diagnostic pathologists?

We invite you to come to Ludwigsburg (near Stuttgart) on June 06/07/08, 2018

You will arrive in the afternoon of June 06, 2017 in Ludwigsburg. During a casual dinner, you will meet staff members of our pathology team. On June 07, we will start with an exciting tour through our laboratory where you have the chance to get insights into our diagnostic procedures. Afterwards you have the opportunity to meet with our in-house pathology team and discuss interesting cases with international team members. We end the day with having dinner together in a nice restaurant. You will travel back to your home destination on June 08.

All expenses paid!

All costs including travel, overnight stay in a hotel, and meals will be covered by IDEXX.

Please register until latest May 14, 2018 with nicole-hammer-kohler@idexx.com
