

University of Cambridge

Department of Veterinary Medicine

University Lecturer / Senior Lecturer in Clinical Pathology

Stipend scale: University Lecturer £36,862 - £46,696
Senior Lecturer £49,539 - £52,556

Limit of tenure: to the retirement age, subject to satisfactory completion of a 5 year probationary period

Applications are invited for a University Lecturer or Senior Lecturer in Veterinary Clinical Pathology to join a team of one other clinical pathologist, three anatomic pathologists, and four Senior Clinical Training Scholars (Residents). There is significant academic strength in, and infrastructural support for, pathology and clinical pathology in the Department and the appointment will provide further opportunities to support and extend its academic and diagnostic capabilities.

Candidates should have a proven track record in the clinical pathology disciplines. They should hold membership of the Royal College of Veterinary Surgeons (RCVS), or a degree in veterinary medicine recognised by the RCVS making them eligible for membership, and have evidence of experience and expertise in veterinary clinical pathology, with ECVCP, ACVP or RCPPath certification in Veterinary Clinical Pathology. Candidates eligible to sit the ECVCP/ACVP/RCPPath examinations in 2012 may apply. Experience in diagnostic work is essential and an advanced degree or PhD, with a record of published research, is highly desirable. Successful applicants should be research active and able to contribute to the Department's research programmes.

Informal enquiries: Professor Alun Williams, Chair of Veterinary Diagnostic Pathology, tel: +44 [0]1223 337640 or aw510@cam.ac.uk or Dr. Joy Archer, Head of Clinical Pathology (+44 [0]1223 337625; ja331@cam.ac.uk).

Further particulars and CHRIS/6 application form can be downloaded from <http://www.vet.cam.ac.uk/news>.

Applications should be sent for the attention of Melissa Large, Department of Veterinary Medicine, Madingley Road, Cambridge CB3 0ES to arrive no later than 13 January 2012. Applications can be made via email to vetmed@hermes.cam.ac.uk.

Interviews will be held on 14 February 2012.
